1944-04-04 Minutes

(Data is accurate but presented in a summary style)

Pomona Ontario Jewish Community Center presiding Al Glassman at 9 PM.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read, corrected and approved.

Brothers Mark Weiss and Harry Grossman of the membership committee expect to personally see all the Jewish residents in the community before the next regular meeting, at which time they will give their final report on the results of their efforts.

Stove committee report that the congregation is now in possession of a new stove through the efforts of Mr. Kibbe. Mr. Kibbe reported he recently joined the B'nai B'rith. Lodge in Los Angeles and learned that Mr. Wolf, a brother, was a manufacturer of the stove we purchased. Ben Kibbe prevailed upon Mr. Wolf's brother spirit with the resulting above mentioned acquisition of the stove.

The main conversation of the evening centered around the question of the type of rabbi our congregation desires. Mr. Lasky told of his experiences in Los Angeles with a rabbi there. The point being that even though they paid their rabbi the small sum of $75 a month, in his opinion he was not even worth that much. He is of the opinion that the important thing to consider is the qualifications of the man rather than how cheap his services can be had. Some of the congregation present are in favor of an orthodox service, others a conservative service, but the question still remains unanswered as to exactly what is meant by orthodox and conservative services.

Opinion interjected by the secretary: "Your secretary would like to take the opportunity to perhaps clarify what appears to be an obstinate problem. The following opinion is my own and is not to be considered as part of these minutes, as such. The Jews are peoples of many lands and customs. What would be an orthodox service to one Jew does not necessarily mean the same thing to another Jew. The orthodox services in Germany are certainly different than the orthodox services in Russia. The same is true of the conservative form of services. This community is made up of Jews from several different countries and their ideas can by no stretch of the imagination agree on any strict definition of orthodoxy and conservatism. Our problem, therefore, is not to decide whether or not we want an orthodox or conservative form of service but rather to agree on the customs and formalities and procedure(s) that we wish to have. This problem can best be solved a few capable leaders delegated with authority to decide these important questions. If these men can work out a satisfactory type of worship and if they feel that their decision will meet with the approval of the majority of the members of the congregation, then the problem will be solved without having to decide whether such a service is orthodox or conservative."

Dr. Rightman, chairman of the United Jewish Appeal, urged members to continue interest and cooperation, with the help of Mr. Lasky, agreed on May 16th as the date of the annual dinner at the paradise Resort.

Brother Grossman estimated $100 to alterations of the Center and asked to proceed at once to have the partition and platform built.

Balance on Hand $546.91 presently.

Regular business meeting called to order by president, Al Glassman.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Nathan Selk, an Educational Committee member, reported his investigation of Rabbi Shore proved beyond a question of a doubt that the rumors which were circulated among our members with reference to Rabbi Shore's past were in fact without foundation and as far as he could determine were false. A lengthy and rather heated discussion took place on the floor, however, it was the honest belief of a great majority of members present that this congregation should consider itself fortunate to have Rabbi Shore as our spiritual leader. (See newspaper clipping at end about Shore's Installation).

The Chairman of the Educational Committee reported: The final contract was two years beginning July 1, 1944. The salary for the first year will be $2600 and the salary for the second year will be $3000.Rabbi Shore has agreed to establish permanent residence in Pomona by September 1, 1944 with the help of the community. The secretary, with help of other committee members, will prepare the necessary written agreement. The president and the three trustees have full power to act on behalf of the Congregation.

Harry Rose suggested that a Religious Committee be appointed by the president who will receive all suggestions and complaint with reference to our religious and Sunday School services for the purpose of transmitting these suggestions and complaints to the Rabbi for his consideration. The members would also consult with Rabbi with reference to the manner in which the Holiday services are conducted. Members: Nathan Selk, Ben Tarshish and Reta Grossman.

Discussion by a group of members to use the synagogue in order that they might conduct religious services separate from those of the Congregation. Inasmuch as the Congregation will use the Ark and further because of the derogatory remarks that some of these men have made to several members of our Congregation, it was decided the synagogue would be closed for the Holiday period and these reasons our House of Worship would not be made available. The secretary was instructed to do advise Mr. Kaufman who was acting as spokesman for this group.

Discussion in reference on deciding minimum dues. This matter presents quite a problem owing to the rather limited membership and the ability to pay on the part of our Congregation. The Educational Committee should use the dues amount pledged on the drive of 1944 as a guide.
